

Biography

Specialist Alex Bahry

Demonstration Parachutist, Gold Team

U.S. Army Parachute Team, "Golden Knights"

Personal Statistics

Hometown: Savannah, Georgia

School Attended: Minsk School # 164, Belarus

Biographical Sketch

Specialist Alex Bahry is serving as a Demonstration Parachutist on the Gold Demonstration Team.

Alex enlisted more than 2 years ago and attended Basic training at Ft. Jackson, SC. Immediately after, his Advanced Individual training as a 15Y, Apache Helicopter technician, was at Ft Eustis, VA.

Throughout SPC Bahry's career, duty stations have also included a year in Ansbach, Germany. He was also named Honor Grad at his AIT. He holds the Aviation Maintainer Badge and has a Russian language proficiency.

In 2014 Alex applied to the United States Army Parachute Team to attend the rigorous Assessment and Selection Program. Upon completion of the program he was assigned to the Gold Demonstration Team.

Since learning to skydive in 2011 Alex has logged more than 670 free fall parachute jumps.

In his free time he enjoys skydiving and indoor rock climbing.

