

Biography

Spc. Raine Fuller

Demonstration Parachutist, Black Team
U.S. Army Parachute Team, “Golden Knights”

Personal Statistics

Hometown: McKinney, Texas
School Attended: McKinney Boyd High School

Biographical Sketch

Spc. Raine Fuller serves as a Demonstration Parachutist for the U.S. Army Parachute Team Black Demonstration Team.

Raine enlisted in the Army in 2018 and attended basic training and advanced individual training at Fort Benning, Ga. to become an Infantryman (11B).

He was stationed at Fort Polk, La., where he spent two years as a rifleman before attending the rigorous Golden Knight Assessment and Selection Course.

Since learning to skydive in 2016, he has logged over 330 free-fall parachute jumps. His awards include the National Defense Service Medal, Army Achievement Medal, and Expert Infantry Badge.

In his free time, Raine enjoys playing ping pong, yoga, and going on hikes with his wife and dogs.

