

Biography

Sergeant First Class Noah Watts

Instructor / Videographer, Tandem Team

U.S. Army Parachute Team, "Golden Knights"

Personal Statistics

Hometown: St. Peters, Missouri

School Attended: Francis Howell North High School

Biographical Sketch

SFC Noah Watts is an Airborne Infantryman serving as a Tandem Instructor and Videographer for the Tandem Team.

Watts joined the Marines in July of 1996 as a mortorman, then went to Recon from 1998 thru 2004. Before attending the Knight's rigorous Assessment and Selection Program in September 2007 he served as an Airborne school Instructor at Ft. Benning, GA. In 2001 he shipped out 1 week after 9-11 on the Naval ship U.S.S. Bataan for an 8 month deployment to Afghanistan. Again he deployed to Iraq, 2003, in support of the War on Terrorism. Upon selection, Watts transferred into the United States Army as an Infantryman.

Prior to making the team he completed the Basic Airborne Course, Static Line, Jump Master, Military Free Fall Course, and Marine Combatant Dive School. He has earned numerous medals from his service in support of the Global War on Terrorism.

In addition, Watts is a United States Parachute Association Pro, Coach, Tandem rated, Static Line and Accelerated Free Fall Instructor Examiner, Tandem I.E. Military Free Fall Jumpmaster and Instructor Evaluation Rated Course Director. He has over 5,900 free fall parachute jumps, 2,300 Tandem and over 60 static line jumps.

Noah enjoys the outdoors, bikes, rock climbing, scuba diving and flying.

